Women's eNews

Women's eNews is a handy way for feminist teachers and students to keep up with current events that have an impact on women and girls. As its brochure states, Women's eNews "is a Web site and an Internet-based daily news service distributing top-flight journalism on issues of particular importance to women." The service also is now available in Arabic. To get more information or to subscribe, go to www.womensenews.org.

WE LEARN

WE LEARN (Women Expanding/Literacy Education Action Resource Network) "promotes women's literacy as a tool for personal growth and social change through networking, education, action, and resource development." For more information, visit their website at www.litwomen.org/welearn.html.

CQ Researcher

The May 20, 2005 CQ Researcher, which is published by CQ Press, a division of Congressional Quarterly, Inc., contains a number of articles about gender and learning. Prompted by Harvard President Lawrence Summers's now infamous remarks about women and science, this issue of CQ Researcher provides articles on the questions about women and men and science from a number of perspectives. For information, visit their website at www.thecqresearcher.com.
